IV Overall assessment of visit and suggestions:

(the visiting officer to ensure that the overall assessment is recorded in detail along with concrete suggestions.)

The visit remained very much successful as the public participation was large in no. in the interaction programme and people felt very happy. People put forth their problems and genuine demands and stressed for immediate redressal and resolution through the respective departments. Hence it is suggested that concerned departments have to be made accountable and more efforts have to be put in to fulfill the genuine demands of inhabitants in time bound schedule.
