1. The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a continuous function and that it satisfies the differential equation $f'(x) = f(x)$. The solution of this equation is $f(x) = Ce^{x^2/2}$, where C is a constant. The value of C is determined by the initial condition $f(0) = 1$, which gives $C = 1$. Therefore, the function $f(x)$ is $f(x) = e^{x^2/2}$.

1. The first of the four conditions is that the sample must be representative of the population. This means that the sample should be selected in such a way that it is not biased in any way. For example, if you are studying the effect of a new drug on blood pressure, you should not only include people who are taking the drug, but also people who are not taking it, and people who are taking it for different reasons. This will ensure that the results of your study are not biased by the way the sample was selected.
