ii. FEEDBACK ON UT INITIATIVES

With the transition of Jammu & Kashmir from state to Union Territory has given rise to many hopes and aspirations regarding development, hassle free transactions, digitisation vis-a-vis end to corruption and nepotism. The people of this area are sanguine enough that the things are going to change and their lives will transform with the avenues and opportunities created by the UT government. However, the lack of access to facilities like Community centres, health care, better road connectivity etc. makes it a distant dream for them to realise. It is surprising that despite having abundant livestock, local food products like maize, walnut etc., they never have availed the subsidy based loans or high density crops or high breed livestock due to lack of awareness or lack of access, which would definitely have enhanced their production process. If approached by the concerned departments and given hassle free monetary support or high breed animals they would definitely help in reducing the food scarcity not at regional level but also at the national level.

3	Overall assessment of the visit and suggestions: (The visiting officer to ensure that the overall assessment is recorded in details along with concrete suggestions)	The panchayat is situated on a hilly terrain having insufficient vegetation, meagre sources of income and employment. Despite the fact that state govt. has opened schools in every hamlet of the panchayat ranging from primary to middle to High school which is a good sign of development. As of now, a good number of students are enrolled in the schools and definitely is a good sign and the dropout rate has dropped substantially. However, lack of regular income discourages them to pursue tertiary education. Travelling across the length and breadth of panchayat, less than 1% of students were identified who had reached to a college or university level. The area has a good human capital which needs to be honed besides a tremendous potential for tourism and if developed can open the sources of employment for the local population in particular and district in general. There is an urgent need of incorporating skills training among the indigenous population for which various skill centres may be opened there. Overall, the panchayat has developed and progressed over the years but much needs to be done yet. Tourist huts needs to be constructed on priority basis so as to attract the tourists across the state which will boost the economy of the area.
